From the New York Tribune. We certainly are thankful that the Army and Navy have been reduced in size slace the year 1868; that they are less burdensome to the nation, at least in pecuniary sense; and that the money which might have been lavished on idle ships and idle regiments remains in the Tressery. We rejoice that the country has prosperous, the revenue large, the debt diminished, and the nations credit sustained; but when we are called upon to give President Grant, or even the Republican Congress, credit for the blemings, we respectfully demur. There is a middle ground between an ecoomical and a corrupt administration. Economy is a positive quality. To administer a great public trust with wise my of the President and Congress has lts ilent and Congress have control. Had the Government maintained the Army and Navy on a war footing, they would have committed an outrage. But the bloom of a lad of sixteen is in his check. strength of a life deveted to useful purmits, to study, to exercise, to charity, to drudging, to intellectual work and phyical work, to perfect sobriety and regullarity. His mind, like his body, 1: vigorous and life. He ha prodigious talk-er, writer and farmer. He does everything with a vim. He could engage in' a wrestling match with Schurz, who is a little and active man, with a fair show of success. He can out-talk Charles Stirti: ner, whose tongue is equal to a millwheel. He can ride with John Breckinridge, who has been known to keep the saddle four days on a stretch. He howe trees, plows, and in short, does the work of half a dozen ordinary men: In appearance Mr. Greeley is farm-like. PEERLESS BEE-HIVE!! Patented Dec. 26th, 1871, by J. S. PROCTER,

Of Franklin, Kniucky. Io Hee-keepers Everywhere:

The following points of excellence comprise a few of the many, that may be truthfully claims? for my have:

If it is simply in construction, comin appearance and is the most easily understood and usinged movable excels frame live ever lovented.

The only material required in its construction is 25 feet of lumber, the nulls necessary to fasten it together and a few ornall scraps of wire that to cover ventilistum. Not a core, see a ere, look and eye, hinge, ploud, piece of in, in take, gloss, or other expensive material is used in its construction.

When properly used, it is the cooled hire for automor and as warns as the warness for whiter use, affording ample prefection for the nucleonal wintering of colonies on the summer stand.

our result.

4. By its use the necessity for "honey boards" or "honey lears" is) entirely dispensed with, while the chambers may be contracted to suit the condition of any circle colors of from one single frame to ten, enabling the keeper in continuous aminal heat to the spare only occupied by the colors.

5. Lase time and labor iv required in hand 5. Less time and labor iv required in handling, and the bread is less exposed than in using other first-class hires.

5. While it does not claim to be positively most proof under all circumstances, yet it is provided with the least expensive and most effectual device for the capture and distruction of most militers ever attached to a hire, and will do note to protect the bees from the ray-ages of that terrible scorage, than all the expensive and complicated "traps" ever invented and will in most cases afford perfect protection.

7. The construction is such that the frameword false only it regully well either the broad or surplus chander.

8. A number of small colonies or nuclei or surplus chamber.

8. A number of small colonies or nuclei naw be used in the same hive, or one or more may be kept in outplue chamber, receiving all the necessary natural wernth from the colony confined to the broad chamber, receiving all the necessary natural wernth from the colony confined to the broad chamber.
